INDIANS IN UGLY MOOD.

United States Troops Sent to Arrest the Pillage Indians for the Murder of the Soldiers Killed.

The Cause of the Trouble Which Lead Up to the Battle Wednesday at Bear Island With Gen. Bacon's Men.

Lothrop, Minn., Oct. 8.—It is reported here that three hundred soldiers have been sent to Bear Island to arrest the Pillage Indians who took part in Wednesday's battle and thus became responsible for the murder of seven soldiers.

The redskins are in an ugly mood and there is every indication for another battle when the soldiers arrive.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The Indian outbreak in Minnesota, like so many other troubles, grew out of whiskey, and affords another argument for temperance advocates. The pillagers are a band of the Chippewa nation and have a reservation in Cass county, in the northeastern part of Minnesota, almost directly west from Duluth. They are partially civilized, cultivate the soil, raise cattle, cut lumber and wear "store clothes." They have also adopted other features of civilization, such as the use of whiskey, and of late years have given the authorities a great deal of trouble by carrying on a contraband traffic.

Fourteen of them were arrested about six months ago and taken to Duluth, where they were convicted by the United States district court of selling liquor without license, selling liquor upon an Indian reservation and selling liquor to Indians, and were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment from thirty to ninety days.

The ringleader of the whiskey trade was Bush Ear, the chief of the tribe, who escaped arrest last spring, but when they came down to the agency a few weeks ago for their annuities he and other offenders were arrested. The next morning, while the deputy marshal was attempting to take his prisoners to Duluth, a band of Indians rescued them, and there was quite a serious riot. Fearing that the deputy marshal would bring a posse, the Indians retreated to Bear Island in Leech lake, about eighteen miles from Walker village, in Cass county, and have since remained there, sending messages of defiance to the authorities.

United States Marshal O'Connor has been trying to persuade the Indians to submit peacefully to arrest, but without success. The war department was called on for help, and Lieut. Humphrey and twenty men of

An exceptionally full line of the highest grade whiskeys, brandies, wines, rums, both imported and domestic, constantly on hand.

For Medicinal Purposes

These goods are all bottled "in bond," bearing the government stamp, which is a safeguard against their having been mixed or tampered with in any way whatever. We carry a drug-gist's license, so that physicians can and are compelled to write a prescription when recommending wines or liquors to patients.

the 3rd United States infantry were sent from Ft. Snelling, near St. Paul, to Walker last Saturday. After looking the ground over and finding there 300 Indians, fully armed, on Bear Island, more troops were a-keed for and on Tuesday morning Gen. Bacon, Col. Wilkinson and eighty men left Fort Snelling for the scene, arriving at Walker Wednesday, when the battle took place.

SITUATION WORSE.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 8.—The yellow fever situation in Mississippi is worse today than at any time this year. The disease is spreading rapidly and new cases are appearing in new towns and the whole state seems to be infested.

Thousands of people are leaving their homes and the state.

OUR ADVERTISERS.

Especially attention is called to the advertisements which appear in this issue. Paducah is known all over Western Kentucky and Southern Illinois for the stability of her leading retail business men. These well known and reliable houses are also known as reliable advertisers; their announcements to the public are always carried out. For that reason particular attention is called to the advertisements which appear in this issue. A careful reading of these will be to your profit.

Marshall Collins this afternoon received a telegram from J. M. Wheeler, of Florida, Ind., stating that the buggy sold here yesterday by the young men arrested on suspicion of being wanted in Terre Haute, was sold by him, but that he holds a mortgage on it, and wants it held. It is now in possession of Mr. Willett, who purchased it.

SENSATIONAL MURDER.

The Brother of Mrs. McKinley Found Dead in the Street at Canton, Ohio—Had Been Shot.

The Murderer Is Supposed to Be a Woman He Had Discarded.
The McKinleys in Canton to Attend the Funeral.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—Everything points to Mrs. George as the murderer of Mrs. President McKinley last night. Mrs. George claims that Saxton discarded her and she admits that she had threatened his life, though denying that she killed him.

George D. Saxton, the murdered man, was found shortly after six o'clock last night with three bullet holes in his body. Mrs. Anna C. George was soon arrested on suspicion of being the murderer. Saxton was unconscious when the neighbors arrived and dead when physicians and officers arrived. The former said that death was instantaneous, the three bullets having entered vital spots.

Mrs. George is the divorced wife of Sample C. George, who sued Saxton for $20,000 for alienating his wife's affections. Mrs. George now claims that Saxton had deserted her for other women.

The tragic affair has created intense excitement here on account of the great prominence of Saxton's relatives.

President and Mrs. McKinley will arrive here today and will attend the funeral of Saxton, which will be held Monday.

The Judge Will Go Out to the Country to Spend It.

This is the 58th anniversary of the birth of Judge D. L. Sanders, and while there will be no elaborate commemoration of it, the judge has been well remembered by his many friends and last night there was an informal supper tendered him down town by a few of them.

The judge is still as young and active as a two-year-old, and has not missed a day at court while in the city, for years.

THEIR ONLY DEFENSE.

Chaplain McIntyre, of the Oregon, has at last made a defense which may enable him to escape punishment for his sensational attacks upon naval commanders at Santiago.

When first accused the chaplain admitted having used the language attributed to him with some slight modifications. Later he denied having made an attack upon his fellow officers. His latest plea is that the long trip on the Oregon affected his mind, and that he does not remember what he said. He only knows what he intended to say, and that differs entirely from what he said.

Upon the plea of mental aberration, if sustained, Chaplain McIntyre will be acquitted by the public as well as by the court martial.

It will now be in order, says the Chicago Times-Herald, for the editors of the yellow press, who have made equally sensational and equally unfounded charges, to appear before the war inquiry commission and enter the same plea as Chaplain McIntyre, for only in this way can they escape conviction for slander in the eyes of the public.

It is a significant fact that so far every sensational accusation brought against the army or navy which has been investigated has proved to be utterly without foundation or based on the hallucination of a disordered intellect.

FIFTY YEARS FOR MURDER.

Sheriff Lane Passes Through Enroute to Chester.

Sheriff Henry G. Lane and Deputy Henry Garland and Tom Tucker, of Elizabethtown, Ill., arrived in the city last evening enroute to Chester penitentiary, Illinois, with six prisoners, convicted at the term of court just closed.

James Gibbs is the most important of the prisoners. He was convicted of the murder of Anderson Windings, another farm hand, on May 28th, 1897, near Cave-in-Rock, and given fifty years in the penitentiary. The men fell out over some trivial matter, and it is said the murder, committed with an ax, was a most cold blooded one. The sentence is equivalent to a life term, as Gibbs can hardly outlive it.

The other prisoners were: John Culikon, man-slayer, 3 years; Chas. Mason, ax-slayer, 10 years; paroled; and Frank Burns, Ed Walters and Ed Long, burglars, also enroute.

One woman was sent to Joliet and a boy to the reform school.

OCTOBER 18.

The Date of the Opening of Hayes, Foster & Ward's New Store.

With a Large and Complete Stock and a Splendid Building, They Will Be Ready for Business.

Attention is called to the announcement in this issue of the opening day of Paducah's new dry goods house, Hayes, Foster & Ward. Tuesday, Oct. 18th is the day, and an entirely new stock in a new and modern building will be displayed. The firm will carry a complete and up to date line of dry goods, notions, tapestry, children's clothing, shoes and ladies' and gents' furnishing goods.

This new firm comes to Paducah with ample capital to carry a first class and complete stock, and the individual members of the firm are all experienced men. Mr. R. C. Hayes has been in the dry goods business at Trenton, Tenn., for 22 years; Mr. A. W. Foster has also been in business in the same town for many years; Mr. W. J. Ward has been in business in St. Louis for the past four years. These gentlemen come here with the highest reputations and will make valuable additions to Paducah's business and social circles.

Their head salesman is Mr. W. A. Armstrong, who formerly had charge of the military department of Edward Hunter & Co., of Memphis. The salesladies will be Misses Maggie Williams and Hattie Curd and Mrs. Salina Holland. Miss Bertha Hill will be cashier.

The firm's location is 406 Broadway in the new and elegant 3-story building erected by Mr. M. Nahn. The building is 120 feet deep and will be occupied entirely by the new firm, thus giving them ample room for the display of their large stock.

The marriage of Miss Mattie Vaughn, daughter of Col. S. C. Vaughn, to Mr. Eli G. ing dance and one during the holidays, and bring the series to a close on the eve of Lent.

St. Louis, with her fair and exposition and Veiled Prophet's parade and ball, took a great many of our people out of town this week—240 excursionists went over Monday—and they are loud in their praises of the pleasant trip they had. The Veiled Prophet's ball Tuesday night was pronounced the most successful one ever given. Some of our people were fortunate enough to be invited to attend. Among them were Mrs. George Flournoy, Mr. Dick Rudy and Mr. Rabb Noble.

Mrs. S. W. Cunningham and niece, Miss Susie Guion, of New Orleans, who were in the city visiting Miss Ada Enders, left today for Mount Eagle, Tenn., where Miss Guion will under Fairmont College.

One pleasant diversion society will miss this year is the delightful amateur theatricals we all so much enjoyed last year, and it is hoped that our talented young friends will see fit to, as "Baron Hohenstauffen" says, "turn over their minds" and favor us with another, at least, of their charming performances.

Said a charming young debutante today: "I wonder if the crokiade parties will be as popular this year as they were last season? Yes, I certainly enjoyed them, but my poor fingers were always so sore for a day or two that I could not use them, yet it was so delightful and exciting—and I do hope we shall have them again!"

The Shakespeare, Magazine, Young Ladies' Circle, and the Married Ladies' Circle Clubs are all planning, for the coming season, a repetition of last season's pleasant entertainment.

Mrs. Geo. Flournoy is visiting in St. Louis.

Mr. Jas. A. Rudy has been confined to his room for several days, but is now much improved.

Mr. W. C. Ellis has been very sick for several days, but is now convalescing.

Mrs. Wheeler Campbell leaves for St. Louis next week to attend the wedding of a friend.

Miss Pauline Houston, who has been very ill for several weeks is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Russell will entertain in honor of their daughter, Miss Anna, October 20.

Miss Anna is one of this season's debutantes. She is a handsome young lady, and is destined to be very popular with society.

Little Miss Sarah Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Corbett, gave a birthday party Thursday and entertained many of the future belles and beaux.

An approaching marriage that will unite one of the most popular couples in the city will take place on the 20th of this month. Mr. Roy S. Dawson, of Ellis, Rudy & Phillips, and Miss Lucette Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Scott, will be married at 11 o'clock a. m., on Thursday, the 20th, at the home of the bride on North Fourth street. Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, will officiate, and the couple will leave on the 12:15 train for St. Louis, on a bridal tour. There have been no invitations issued in the city, and the marriage will be witnessed by only a few intimate friends and relatives of the couple.

Mr. Dawson has been a resident of Paducah for about two years, and came here from Owensboro. He is a young man of sterling worth, and has won one of Paducah's fairest young ladies. Both have many friends to wish them much happiness in life.

A marriage that has been talked of between a popular bachelor and a young lady of the North Side will take place on the evening of the 19th at the home of the bride. It is understood the wedding will be announced in the church tomorrow.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

It was a newly married couple, and the average student of human nature would guess it in a minute. They came to one of the best hotels, and engaged rooms. In the dining hall they were the objects of much attention, but they regarded it all with blissful indifference and paid their spare attention to each other.

The groom looked like a country school teacher. Country school teachers do not differ materially from other people, but he was an exception. He differed from any one ever seen in the fashionable hostelry before, in many ways. When he got ready for dinner, or supper either, for that matter, he would saunter up to the dining room door and await the arrival of the head waiter. When that dignitary arrived, the unabashed groom entered and was escorted to a seat. If the head waiter was not at the door when he arrived, he simply stood there and waited for him. Evidently he regarded that factotum as an usher, as he never ventured inside the door unless it be at his heels.

Once inside and at the table, he picked up a bill of fare and marked off what he and his wife wanted. Then he arose and returned to his room and his waiting bride. The waiter had to notify him when the meal was ready. Then the couple appeared and were shown to the table.

The head waiter got a little disgusted with their verbiage, and manifestly decided to play a joke on them. The other day he brought in a couple of finger bowls for them. They had nice puffed up napkins under them, with two slices of lemon at the table. Needless to say, all the other boarders around were very curious to ascertain what the couple would do with the finger bowls. Finally the blooming bride, with her rustic grace and well feigned abandon, reached for the sugar, and dropped two lumps into the bowl. She then squeezed the lemon into it, and proceeded to stir. Then she drank the contents of the finger bowl with her spoon, and seemed to enjoy the mixture. In fact she appeared to take as much delight in it as if she knew what it was.

The boarders at surrounding tables were convulsed with laughter, and one lady's mirth was so unrestrained that she had to hide her face behind her napkin and feign illness to keep from attracting the couple's attention. The incident was pronounced the greatest evidence of unsophisticatedness ever witnessed in the hotel. It is presumed the couple have now returned to more benighted and congenial surroundings, and the head waiter is glad of it.

A day or two ago a Chinaman entered Yang's drug store and displayed a receipt for fop taxes. He seemed proud of the small slip of paper, given him by the Melican man, and when questioned why he paid taxes when he did not vote, replied:

"Me no clare flo Jim Pang, he mlayer, but Chinaman chile glo to Melican man schoolee allee slamee. Les me payee polle tlax."

He grinned but had no idea that he was then talking to "Jim Pang," the mayor, and the crowd that usually is to be found there seemed to greatly enjoy the joke.

A Broadway saloon keeper played a laughable joke on a competitor down the street Thursday. Several days ago a certain man skipped out, or was supposed to have skipped, leaving to mourn his departure numerous and anxious creditors. The saloon keeper in question is the only man in town who can talk like the absconding debtor, and he stepped to the telephone and calling up all the creditors of the other man, impersonating him to perfection, told them that he would leave enough money at the other man's saloon at 3 o'clock that afternoon to discharge all his indebtedness. The creditors were very glad to get the good news, and

A CALLED MEETING.

The Council Passed the Itinerant Merchant's Ordinance Last Night — Contract Ratified.

The Pumping Station for the Sewerage System Discussed — Vehicle Ordinance Given Its First Passage.

The council met last night in called session, Messrs. Winstead and Clark being absent. The former afterwards came in. The mayor read his call, which was to pass the itinerant merchant's ordinance, to consider the pumping station of the sewerage, the vehicle ordinance and the Tenth improvement contract.

The ordinance referred to in the call, which fixed the license at $25 per day, was amended by inserting "$300.00 per year." The amendment was carried by a unanimous vote.

Councilman Ezell said he had the ordinance relative to vehicles, which he read.

Capt. Fowler spoke in favor of allowing the hacks to remain near the hotels for the convenience of the traveling public. He said that where they were required to stand, under the new ordinance, there was no way to get them except to telephone them. He was in favor of the ordinance nevertheless.

Mr. Ezell replied that the hotel men did not want them to stay around the hotels, and recently had an ordinance passed to prevent it.

There was considerable discussion, some being of the opinion that the space allotted the vehicles was too small.

The ordinance was lost by a vote of 6 to 5.

The mayor read a contract with Mr. E. C. Terrell to grade and gravel the Tenth street from Hubards and Court street, for 64 cents per lineal foot, the work to be completed by January 1st.

The matter of completing the pumping station of the sewerage was brought up. Councilman Fowler said winter and high water were coming and the pumping station was incomplete.

Chairman Elliott, of the sewerage committee, stated that two sets of plans had been completed, but no satisfaction can be gotten from Mr. White, the contractor.

The mayor stated that Mr. White had been officially notified that the pumping station must be completed. He has written City Engineer Postlethwaite that he had not arranged satisfactorily with Contractor Katterjohn.

Mr. Elliott said the city attorney had stated that Contractor White must be allowed a reasonable time in which to complete the station, before proceeding against him. Mr. Lightfoot was present and said he had written the latter, asking Mr. White whether or not he intended to complete the station.

Councilman Davis says he saw former Consulting Engineer Elliott in Memphis, and Mr. Elliott thought that it would be a capital idea to locate the pumping station over the well, which the committee contemplates, as it would give more room.

The mayor stated that he deemed it advisable to await a reply from Mr. White before taking action.

Mr. Lightfoot said a forfeiture of

SUSPECTS RELEASED.

Both Told Straight Stories and Were Set at Liberty.

Marshal Collins received a postal card yesterday stating that on the 23d of last month a mare was stolen from a pasture two miles from Terre Haute, Ind., and that it was stolen by Guy Cable, who went to Brazil, Ind., and there hired a buggy and harness from M. G. Jones. The horse belonged to Frank Bolton.

After supper last evening the marshal heard that a horse and buggy had been sold to Mr. J. T. Willett, the liverman, for $4, and secured a description of the men.

They were soon under arrest, and one gave the name of T. O. Spinks, of Florida, Ind., and the other Harley Spittler, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Spinks answered the description of the man alleged to have stolen the horse to a dot, and the buggy sold to Mr. Willett could not have been better described had a person stood before it with a pencil and followed every detail. The animal sold was a mare, however, while that stolen was a mare.

The men told slightly different tales, but denied being the ones wanted. They were searched, but nothing of an incriminating nature was found on them. Marshal Collins telegraphed the Terre Haute authorities for information, and the men were kept in custody in the meantime.

Telegrams were received substantiating the young men, and they were released. It was a very peculiar case, owing to the descriptions fitting so well.

COLORED DEPARTMENT.

SAD NEWS FROM MAYFIELD.

MAYFIELD, KY., Oct. 6, 1898.

The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Amanda Reeves will be pained to learn of her death which occurred last Tuesday night at Nashville, Tenn., where she had gone to be treated. Her remains were shipped here for burial accompanied by Dr. A. G. Taylor, the attending physician. The funeral services were held at the St. James A. M. E. church of which she was a devout member. Revs. L. S. Barrett, J. J. McCutcheon and S. L. Howard conducted the services which were largely attended by a host of sorrowing friends and relatives who followed the beautiful casket to its last resting place.

RALLY! RALLY! RALLY!!!

The rally at the Husband's street C. M. E. church should be well attended Sunday. Every believer and worker in the cause of Christ, touched by that spirit of charity that makes all the world skin, should attend the services at this church tomorrow, and assist in a financial way as much as you can. You will thus be fulfilling the law of Christ in bearing one another's burdens. The church is very much in need of help. There will be services all day. Rev. G. H. Burks will preach in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend.

I wish to say to every Free Will Baptist member, that I am now holding meetings on Third street, between Tennessee and Ohio streets, on the East Side, and would be glad to meet every Free Will Baptist in the city Sunday, at the services at 11 a. m., 3 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. Everybody welcome.

REV. R. HAYES.

Important matter is crowded out of this issue for want of space. Look for it Monday.

STOPPED THE RUNAWAYS.

J. E. Wurth, of the St. John's section, had his team of mules standing near the Paducah Mill and Elevator Company's establishment on First street near Washington, late yesterday afternoon, when the animals took fright and ran away. As they turned around Broadway a colored man leaped into the wagon, and getting the lines managed to stop the runaways at the market house. It was one of the most daring deeds of its kind ever witnessed, and the grateful farmer whose wagon was thus saved from demolition, gave the darkey a dime.

FRANKLIN'S CASE.

It Is Set for Oral Argument on December 6th in the Court of Appeals.

In the Meantime, He Is Still in the Marshall County Jail.

The appeal case of Noah Franklin, who was convicted of the murder of Daisy Sullivan near Briansburg, Marshall county, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, will not come up in the court of appeals until December 6th, on which day it is set for oral argument. Attorney W. M. Reed was in Frankfort a few days ago, and had the time fixed. Mr. Reed ridicules the idea that any of Franklin's friends had anything to do with the alleged effort to break the Benton jail. If anyone attempted it, it was some of the other prisoners' friends. If Franklin's friends wanted to liberate him, Mr. Reed thinks, they have waited a long time to make the attempt.
